

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

P R E F A C E .

I N the summer of 1886, I was requested by Sir Henry Wilmot, Bart., as Chairman of Quarter Sessions, to edit the most valuable parts of the records of the county of Derby. To this labour of love the best part of the leisure of four years was gladly given, with the result that in the summer of 1890 Messrs. Bemrose and Sons Limited, published two volumes entitled "Three Centuries of Derbyshire Annals as illustrated by the records of the Quarter Sessions."

In 1898 the Standing Joint Committee did me the honour of proposing that I should superintend the arrangement and cataloguing of the whole of the records down to the present time, and should also issue a supplemental volume containing a complete calendar and index. The following pages are the result of this commission.

Though mainly intended as a work of practical reference, and as an aid to insure the safety of the documents, this volume ought to prove of some interest to the occasional historical student, and of true value to the local inquirer into county economics.

Certain points not fully elucidated in the Annals receive further treatment in these pages, and a few new subjects that were then overlooked are duly recorded and briefly explained.

References to the particular pages of the two volumes of the Annals are given in various places. It must, however, be distinctly understood that this volume is throughout supplemental to the earlier work.

The Calendars of Deeds enrolled with the Clerk of the Peace from 1583 downwards, will probably be found to be of the most value to those who open this book for other than index purposes.

It is too much to hope that this mass of figures, though very carefully revised, will be found entirely free from errors; but I shall be much disappointed if these pages do not enable the officials (or any licensed inquirer) to obtain any particular record that they may desire to consult, within a few minutes.

LIBER PACIS.

THE two portfolios labelled Liber Pacis are the Sheriffs' Returns or Calendars of Justices and other County Officials attending at each Sessions. They are complete from 1690 down to 1870.

The earliest of these bundles is of considerable importance, as it is believed to contain the only county returns of this character of the reign of Elizabeth which are now extant.

The first of these is for 1558, and gives the names of the two county Coroners, Michael Willoughby and Richard Stephenson. These are followed by the names of seven High Bailiffs for the Liberty of High Peak, Liberty of Scarsdale, Wappentake of Wirksworth, Hundred of Appletree, Hundred of Repton, Hundred of Gresley, and Hundred of Morleston and Litchurch. The subsequent dates are 1562, 1563, 1569, 1570, 1571, and 1589. The last five of these Elizabethan returns note the attendance of eight Bailiffs, the Bailiff for the Liberty of Stoke and Sawley being added to the seven already enumerated.

Three earlier bundles give the names of the Coroners and of the High Constable and Bailiffs for each Hundred.

The first of these is for Epiphany Sessions, 1633, and gives the names of two Coroners, six High Constables, and eight Bailiffs. One of the constables and four of the bailiffs were fined five shillings each for not attending the court.

The return for Translation Sessions, 1666, gives also the names of the three Houses of Correction, which were situated at Derby, Ashbourne, and Chesterfield. From this date onwards the attendance of the Petty Gaolers, as well as that of the Keepers of the County Gaol at Derby, are generally enumerated.

In 1678 headings are given for the names of prisoners, both in the Derby Gaol and in the three Houses of Correction; these headings are continued for a long period, but the names of the prisoners are very rarely entered.

The first list of the Justices in these calendars is for Easter Sessions, 1693.

The list comprises twenty-six names, but fourteen of them are prefixed with the letter A, signifying absence, giving a total of twelve. The full list is repeated on each return. The two next Sessions of 1693 show a respective attendance of sixteen. The Roll of the Justices was materially increased in the time of Queen Anne; it then numbered eighty-two.

At Michaelmas Sessions, 1711, the names of four masters of Houses of Correction are given, namely, for Derby, Wirksworth, Chesterfield, and Tideswell. The calendar of Epiphany Sessions for 1728, of five masters of Houses of Correction, were at Derby, Ashborne, Wirksworth, Tideswell, and Chesterfield. These five officials continue to appear on each calendar up to Translation Sessions, 1828; from that date onwards the entry is only made of the keeper of the County Gaol.

With the year 1760 the calendar of Justices, which then numbered one hundred and thirteen, is classified according to rank, and concludes with three "Doctors of Physic" and two Clerks in Holy Orders.

HIGHWAYS AND FOOTPATHS.

PORTFOLIOS D, E, AND F.

THESE three portfolios contain, arranged alphabetically, the orders, with the plans and papers connected therewith, for stopping, diverting, and turning certain cartways, driftways, bridle and footways within the several parishes, townships, liberties, and lordships therein enumerated, and for the opening in certain cases of other highways in lieu thereof.

These orders, beginning in 1773, come down to the present day. By the common law an ancient highway could not be changed without the king's license, first obtained under a writ of ad quod damnum. By the passing of the statute 13 Geo. III., cap. 78, a more commodious and trusty method was given by placing the power, under certain conditions, in the hands of the justices. This method has been continued under various statutes until now. The County is fortunate in possessing specimens of these several modes of procedure.

The papers and illustrative plans, together with certificates of completion, have been collected from the several sessional rolls, through which they were dispersed.

Besides the great value for the special purpose for which they are intended, these documents in many cases show the ownership of the lands through which the diverted highway was to pass at the time when the order for such diversion was made.

DESCRIPTIVE CALENDAR IN CHRONOLOGICAL ORDER.

60. DERBY. An inquisition by the sheriff at the "Ship Inn," Full Street, Derby, in obedience to a writ of ad quod damnum issued out of Chancery 13th September, 1773, to inquire if any damage would arise to the king or others if the king should grant to Anna Maria Rivett, John Bateman, Thomas Macklin, and Thomas Bonnow, licenses to enclose a common footway leading from Cock Pit Hill, in the Borough of Derby, over a close called Long Close, alias Cock Pit Hill Close, alias Cow Castle Close, and across a close called Newlin Leys, and the end of a close belonging to Thomas Bonnow, of Castle Fields, to the turnpike road leading from Derby to Osmaston, and containing in length 450 yards. OATHS AND DECLARATIONS.

THE Test Act of 25 Charles II., cap. 2, which has been described on pp. 358-9, vol. i., of Derbyshire Annals, provides that a declaration should be made and signed in open court, at Quarter Sessions, against Transubstantiation, to the following effect:—

“I doe declare that I doe believe that there is not any Transubstantiation in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, or in the elements of bread and wine, at or after the consecration thereof by any person whatsoever.”

At the first sessions after this Act came into operation there were 237 signatures to this declaration. These signatures are subscribed on large sheets of parchment, and go on continuously, session by session, until the repeal of the Act, in 1828.

10. George III. and George IV., on paper [thirty-eight].
11. Victoria [nine].

The recognisances of each Session form an important part of the Sessional Roll. When Col. Colville began to re-arrange the County Records he removed most of the component parts for separate classification, leaving but little besides the recognisances. From 1869 the Sessional Rolls remain much the same as when first tied up.

The following is the list of these rolls, which contain in almost all cases the recognisances :—

15. Calow Poor Law Assessment, not dated.

There are three well bound quarto volumes, lettered "Valuation of the County of Derby for the Years 1836, 1847, 1854."

16. The full title of the first volume is, "An Estimate of the Full and Fair Annual Value of the Messuages, Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, in every Parish, Township, and Place in the County of Derby, rateable to the relief of the Poor therein, and in all Extra Parochial and other places in the said county, whether deemed rateable or not, to the poor within such Extra Parochial Places. Made in the year 1836 by Francis Sanders."

The valuation of each place is sub-divided under five heads:—(1) Land, including Rateable Woods and Moorland; (2) Houses; (3) Warehouses, Malt Offices, Quarries, Lime Kilns, and Corn Mills; (4) Manufactories; and (5) Coal Mines, Canals, and Railways.

At the conclusion of the volume Mr. Saunders states that these valuations are based on the returns made to the Justices at Petty Sessions, pursuant to the Order of Quarter Sessions, February 6, 1833, on their subsequent examination by the Churchwardens and Overseers of the Poor, and ultimately upon Mr. Saunders' actual survey when there was any doubt.

17. The 1847 volume was also compiled by Mr. Saunders. It gives the valuation of the rateable property of each place under a single heading, and this is followed by a calculation of the rate at one farthing, one halfpenny, three farthings, and one penny in the pound.
18. The 1854 volume was compiled by a committee of magistrates, with the assistance of Richard Stone. It exactly corresponds in method with the previous volume.

The first Commission of the Peace with the Royal Seal is of the reign of Queen Anne. The whole series, including the present acting Commission, numbers eighteen. The Seals of nearly all have become detached and lost. Small portions of the Seals of 1743 and 1758 still remain, as well as two-thirds of the Seal of 1747. There is a detached Seal, in a tin box, somewhat damaged, of George III. The Seal of the Commission of 1793, which is somewhat damaged, is in a tin box. For this Commission, there is a parchment case or bag with strings. The Seal for the 1837 Commission, together with the subsequent ones of the present reign, are covered with leather, stamped after the fashion of the wax enclosed.

These Commissions were usually re-issued, at a considerable charge, when any new batch of magistrates were appointed, in the event of there being no room left for the insertion of fresh names.

The Commission for 1731 has four blank lines where the names end, but this space seems to have been accidentally left, and has never been filled up.

At the beginning of the present reign, the economical fashion came into vogue of issuing the Commission with several blank skins for the insertion of future names.

GAMEKEEPERS' DEPUTATIONS.

THE following is a Calendar of Lords of the Manors deputing Gamekeepers to act on their respective manors, as registered with the Clerk of the Peace, pursuant to Acts 9 Anne, cap. 25, and 1 and 2 William IV., cap. 32. It is of value as a certain proof of the ownership of manors at the particular dates. The names of the manors and their lords are given just as they are found in the Orders of Session, in the Entry Book of the Clerk of the Peace, or on separate documents.

Sometimes it will be found that the name of a family claiming to give a deputation to a particular manor is joined to that of a stranger; in such cases the appointments were made by the trustees of a minor.

For a full account of the earlier statutes pertaining to Gamekeepers, and of these entries, see Derbyshire Annals, vol. ii., pp. 271-5.
